

2021 AGM Editor Report

This year saw the publication of another issue of Rhetor (8.1) under the special editorship of Dr. David Beard (<http://rhetcanada.org/rhetor-8-1/>). The collection provides a rich representation of RhetCanada scholarship from different cohorts of our scholarly society, past and present. I would like to thank David (and the graduate students who assisted along the way) for the hard work—intellectual, editorial, and design-wise—that went into this project. I would like to congratulate and thank all the authors who remained patient and generous spirited as the issue came to completion. Finally, I would like to extend a special word of thanks to Dr. Bruce Dadey, who provided close, extensive editing at various stages along the way. Well done, all!

The next issue of our biannual journal appears in 2023. The next year will see a Call for Papers, collection of submissions, and reinvigoration of the tasks of the Editorial Board, whose work is necessary for the success of our journal.

I have served with pleasure for four years and have overseen in different capacities two issues of Rhetor. With the end of this, my second term as Editor, I hand the reins to another, happy to have participated in the life of our important, community-sustaining publication.

Respectfully submitted,

Dr. Tracy Whalen
